THE MARKET BASKET.

New Vegetables Approaching the Average Pocketbook.

OYSTERS PRACTICALLY AT AN END

Brook Tront, Shad and Frogs Are in Full Supply and Demand.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH. } Market basket materials vary very little in price this week from last. New garden stuff, which is coming in freely from the South, is a shade nearer the average consumer's pocketbook capacity, but all else remains very much as it has been for weeks

There has been no change for six months past in the price of tenderloins and fine rib roasts, though the price of cattle is fully 2c below rates of last fall.

fully 2c below rates of last fall.

The choice cuts hold up to old rates, but other parts of the beef are sold at concessions. At the Diamond market butcher stalls the expected boom following the Lenten fast has not pected boom following the Lenten fast has not thus far materialized.

The fish trade continues extra good, notwithstanding the fact that Easter is past, Sald a leading dealer in this line: "Our trade has been first class all the week, in fact, much better than we expected immediately after Lent." Brook trout, Spanish mackerel and frogs are now in full supply on fish stalls. Shad from the Potomac, Delaware and Hudson also begin to come in freely, and demand so far keeps pace with supply. The oyster season is about at an end. After Saturday no oysters can be taken from the Chesapeake bay according to law. New York counts will be on market all the season. Our frog supplies are in the main from Charleston, S. C., at this time of the year.

In the line of vegetables the only new thing

In the line of vegetables the only new thing on the stalls this week is cauliflower. There is a drift toward a lower level of prices as new garden stuff comes in more freely from the Sunny South.

One of our leading florists thus puts the situation of his industry: "Last week we had a boom, as we always do in Easter times. Trade still keeps up remarkably well. We never did as large a business in the week following Easter as we have done this week. Our trade at this time a year ago was not nearly as good as it is now." Floral prices are on the downward drift, as will be seen by our quotations.

In the line of market basket filling it has proved this week, as last, that the greatest activity has been in the lines of fish and flowers. In other lines trade has been quiet.

ther lines trade has been quiet. Following are the latest retail prices as furnished by leading dealers of materials for Sur Ments.

MARKETS BY WIRE.

Wheat Fairly Active, Weak and Unsettled-July the Favorite Option-Corn and Oats Fractionally Lower-Hog acted in wheat to-day in the aggregate, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. The opening for July, which was the favorite future, was 1/4 @3/c lower than yesterday. There was but little news from outside, and the market was gov-erued principally by local influences. The early decline was attributed to fair selling some realizing by the smaller holders, with apparently but little demand from any source.

This let prices ease off gradually, but when the inside price was reached better buying checked the decline, causing a reaction and a stronger feeling. Around 79c for July there was quite an effort made to prevent the market going higher, but there was sufficient demand to carry prices over that figure. Later, how-ever, free offerings created weakness and the

A much lower range of prices was established, and fluctuations covered a wider range than for several days past. The easier tone was attributed mainly to increased movement. Offerings were heavy, the crowd being long, and in the absence of any outside support the market ruled weak. The market opened rathef excited, with sellers at yesterday's closing prices, and declined quickly, with slight reactions, Mc, recovered Mc, ruled weaker and closed Mc lower than yesterday.

Outs were depressed by heavy receipts. The opening was weak and McMc lower, first sales being made at about outside figures of the day. Prices declined irregularly, and May sold 11/40 below yesterday's closing figures. June and July declined le. There was a large business. There was no support to the market except that given by shorts, and they showed no disposition to buy except on the declines. SCHEMES THAT SHOULD BE WORKED UP

Next Tuesday, April 30, will be a legal holiday throughout the Union, in accordance with the last section of an act approved March 2, 1859, to commemorate the centennial observ-ance of the inauguration of the first President of the United States, George Washington. Persons having paper maturing on that day should remember this and square up on Mon

"I think the few misguided gentlemen who are predicting that the real estate market will soon go to smash will find themselves mistaken," remarked a Fourth avenue dealer yesterday afternoon. "In saying this I think I know what I am talking about. With millions of money seeking investment, such a thing is impossible. Besides, the buying fever is spread-ing. A short time ago nearly all of this was done by one or two syndicates. Now outsiders are taking hold. More that one-half of the reers. Another thing: There can be no collapse of the real estate market so long as there are not enough houses to accommodate the people who want them. Instead of a depression, I look for a strong and active market all sum-

"I am glad that the efforts of the Armours to corner pork have fallen flat," remaked a Lib-erty street packer yesterday. "They tried hard to make it work, but the supply was too large and the offerings too liberal for them to overcome, and they gave it up as a bad job. Big men in the Chicago pit were badly scared for a decline is more probable than an advance."

What has befallen the Penny Savings Fund scheme that was so much talked about two or three months ago? Has it collapsed or only been pigeon-holed along with the Real Estate Exchange, to be acted upon at some future time? The fund is a useful and inexpensive charity, and the exchange is necessary to ena-ble real estate to be properly handled. Both of these enterprises should be worked up.

fluctuated until near the close, when there was a slight spurt which sent the quotation up to 85%c, 1½c, below the opening, where the quotation stood when the gong sounded. There were few borrowers, and they got all they wanted with little difficulty. Trading was active both East and West. One failure occurred, but as it involved less than $200, it was considered of small importance, either directly or consequentially. A broker said: "I think to-day's depression is only temporary, as signs of returning confidence may be seen on every hand." Another broker remarked: "The indications are strongly in favor of a further decline to-morrow," Another ventured this observation: "The market is so hard to understand that I confess 1 know nothing about it."

London Bulls Fail to Get Up a Corresponding Feeling in Wall Street-Stocks Lose Their Grip and Sus-

day was less active and its temper offered a marked contrast to that of yesterday, being heavy and irregular throughout, with the net result of leaving most of the list fractionally lower than last evening. The London prices again came very much higher than our last center shewed a strong bullish feeling upon American securities. The market, however, responded only to a limited extent to the strength in London, and first prices here were generally but slight fractions better than those of last evening, though Louisville and Nash-ville was a marked exception, being up % per lief that the advance of yesterday was too rapid to last long, and while London had many orders in the market it appeared to be realizing upon Louisville and Nashville, and local operators also realized freely upon other portions of the list. This checked the advance at the the list. This checked the advance at the opening, and on a fair volume of business prices moved off fractionally, with Archison and Louisville and Nashville leading among the active shares, and Tennessee Coal among the low-priced stocks. "Archison and Manitoba afterward displayed considerable strength, but the market subsided into duliness. This was relieved in the afternoon by a selling movement in Union Pacific, based upon the action of the Northern Pacific directors yesterday, which it is feared may lead to trouble. Oregon Navigation, Northern Pacific preferred and Louisville and Nashville also became prominent in the movement, and the realizations by the which it is feared may lead to trouble. Oregon Navigation, Northern Pacific preferred and Louisyile and Nashville also became prominent in the movement, and the realizations by the foreigners assumed harger proportions.

The decline was aided somewhat by the ordering of $1,000,000 for export, but the confidence in the continuance of the foreign demand for American securities checked the selling by delivery hour as little more gold is likely to go out if such demand continues. The lowest prices were reached about delivery hour, after which the market was somewhat firmer but closed heavy and dull at about the lowest prices of the day. There were a few wide movements among the specialties. Pullman advanced 1½ per cent, but lost a portion of the gain, while Memphis and Charleston retired 2 per cent. In the unlisted department Sugar Trusts were weak, losing about 1½ per cent, while the others were quiet and moved over small fractions only, Brunswick closing at 20½ on a light business. There were a few fractional advances, Pullman rose 1 per cent and Manitoba 1½, but the great majority are lower. Memphis and Charleston lost 2 and Texas Pacific 1.

The dealings in railroad bonds were of about the same nature as those in shares, the market being quiet while the temper of the trading was somewhat mixed, but was generally firm to strong in the forenoon but weakened later in the day. The final changes are quite evenly divided between gains and losses. The advances include Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic fives 2½, to 25½; the St. Louis division sevens 4, to 118, and the convertible receipts 2, to 98. St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas firsts lost 3, and Erie incomes 6, at 70. The sales of all issues reached $1,84,000. of which Texas Pacific seconds furnished $241,000.

Farmers in Fayette County Buying Winchester Rifes.

The people in the neighborhood of MocIellandtown, Fayette county, where so many robberies have been committed lately, are arming themselves with Winchesters, shotguns, revolvers and other deady weapons. Every farmhouse has been converted into a fort, and the travelers passing along the public roads are often frightened to see the barrel of a rifle projecting through a loophole.

The two storekeepers in the town have been doing a thriving business selling fire arms. One of them was in the city yester day replenishing his stock of Winchesters. He says the people are tired of being robbed and will make the hair fly in the future.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—In a long report to the State Department upon German trade and commerce, James H. Smith, United States Commercial Agental Wayence, refers to the incorporation into the German dustoms of the two great ports of Bremen and Hamburg.

Mr. Smith says that now the anamoly of cities independent in customs matters and free ports of entry has beef done away with, and the entrance of these old free ports into the customs union is another step in the direction of mational consolidation, and will be of much advantaged to the country at large.

sores. Sulphur springs fail. Cured by cutiours Ramedies.

I have used your Cuticula Remedies in two cases where it proved to be successful.
The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the Cuticula Remedies, which I did. He took one and one-half bottles of Cuticula Resolvent, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the Cuticula on his sores and the Cuticula Soap in washing him. He is now five years of age, and all right. The other case was a discase of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the Cuticula Soap and rubbing in the Cuticula, one bottle of Cuticula ResolvENT being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my experience, and I am ready to stand by my statement.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA.

It is the Wanted One of His Retinue Hanged to See How it Was Done.

An Englishman, who now lives in Pittsburg, says he sees by the papers that the Shah of Persia will visit England this summer. He remembers when this heathen ruler spent the summer once before in Great Britain. The English haven't any love for him, but for political reasons are forced to humor him.
